

Party Plan

...how things will flow

- As your guests arrive, greet each woman and provide her with her shopping bag and Healing Hands' information. Give your guests the opportunity to look at the products and encourage them to try things on. Everyone is welcome (and encouraged) to wear the products throughout the evening. This would also be a good time for guests to grab food and drink if it is available.
- Once all of your guests have arrived and have had a few moments to look at the products, we will ask them to be seated and begin by introducing ourselves. If you are willing, we will ask you to take a couple of minutes to share why you have chosen to host a party and support the Women Worth A Million program.
- Next, we will give a brief overview of Healing Hands International as a whole and watch a 7 minute video.
- As we tell of the Women Worth A Million program, we will all play a scavenger hunt game, in which the ladies will have an opportunity to earn play money by finding specific items in their purse relating to concepts about the program.
- As we wrap up the party, we will explain to the guests different ways they can get involved in the program and give them an opportunity to ask questions, shop and make their purchases. This is considered the "Shop, Share, Sign-up" portion of the evening. Ask for the commitment cards and draw for a door prize.
